

Editor (m/f/d)

Core We are all about data: smart, big, small, colourful, silly, monochrome, cheeky, boring, flawed, beautiful, radiant, high-dimensional and high-frequency. Although we are a small business, we work on a variety of diverse projects and products ranging from engineering and E-Commerce to projects in a research context.

One focus of acs plus is the examination of social, ethical and legal aspects of data driven systems. We are looking for an editor to assist acs plus with topic discussion, text planning and drafting.

Your tasks

- Contribute to the conceptualization of theses and arguments
- Organizing and writing in a text form
- Revision and extension of existing texts
- Research on different data related topics

Your profile

- Precise and compact style of writing
- Very good grammar and spelling knowledge in German or English
- Interest in topics around data
- Thinker, self-learner, self-driven

We offer you plenty of opportunities to learn and develop, in addition to an appropriate fee and the ability to work autonomously. At the same time, you have a lot of flexibility in terms of how you organize your working hours and where you work; complete remote work is also an option.
